

A Colonial Thanksgiving

Not the Thanksgiving the Puritans observed, with their wild turkey and simple appointments, but a modern day of thankfulness and feasting, enhanced by a table setting of Colonial Silver, so much in vogue at the present time.

The importance of having one's table appointments in thorough keeping with the dinner served, should not be overlooked.

A Pretty Table Will Increase the Pleasures of The Day

The simplicity of outline and the refinement of decoration, found in the new Colonial designs of Silver, so fittingly mark an occasion of this kind.

Handsome Hollow Ware; a complete service of Spoons, Forks and Fancy Serving Pieces; a good set of Carvers with pretty Cut Glassware—all tend to make the day one of the happy events of the year.

"Honey Boy Minstrels."

Minstrelsy on a mammoth scale will be presented by an all-star cast when George Evans and his "Honey Boy" Minstrels, the most stupendous and best organization of its kind in the world, appears at the Keith theatre on Wednesday night, December 4th.

Although this troupe of minstrel celebrities has been touring the country for the past six years, it required many months of zealous endeavor and continued correspondence with the New York booking office of Klaw & Erlanger by Manager Chas. H. Stamp to secure it for North Platte. Since he has been successful in bringing this monopoly of minstrel favorites here, Manager Stamp thinks it is fitting that a brief sketch of its history should be given the theatrical clientele of North Platte. It follows:

Cohan and Harris originated the "Honey Boy" Evans, the vaudeville and little minstrel luminary, although his support included most of the satellites of the world of blackface. After it successfully traveled the pathway of popularity and prosperity for three successive years under the direction of Cohan and Harris, the company was bought by "Honey Boy." Under his direction it continued its triumphant march which this year leads among other places to North Platte.

Julian Eltinge, the famous impersonator of the gentler sex, rose to stardom from its ranks, now being featured with the "The Fascinating Widow." His loss at first seemed irreparable, but his place has been successfully filled since his departure by Charles Hilliard, a graduate of South Carolina who will be seen here with the "Honey Boy" Minstrels in the role of an alluring, fashionably-gowned octoroon beauty.

Hope to Have Sugar Factory.

The people of Oshkosh, Neb., are looking forward to prospects for a beet sugar factory in that vicinity. Says the Oshkosh Herald: The possibilities of a sugar beet factory being located in Oshkosh is very promising. It has long been assumed that another factory would be located in the North Platte valley, and everything is shaping rapidly towards that end. Henry T. Oxnard, president of the largest beet sugar refining company in the United States which owns the Scotts Bluff factory, recently gave out in an interview that there would be another beet sugar factory in the North Platte valley soon and that it would not be the rumored independent factory at Bridgeport.

Decrease in Nebraska Cattle.

An exhaustive investigation conducted by state labor commissioner Guye discloses the fact that there has been a falling off of 17 per cent in the milk cows of the state during the past five years. Furthermore there has been a reduction of more than 35 per cent in the number of "other" cattle in the state. This is one of the small reasons for increased prices in dressed meats and shows that in the lack of attention to the industry Nebraskans have shared some of the blame for the leap in meat prices.

In 1908 there were in the state 534,646 milk cows and 1,688,936 other cattle, in 1912 there are 443,018 of the former and 1,092,083 of the latter.

The decrease in cattle in Lincoln county alone during the past five years has been over 20,000 head.

Thousands of acres of grazing land in Lincoln county now practically untouched by cattle does not augur well for our future prosperity.
